
Visiting The Huntington Library, Art Collections, and Botanical Gardens

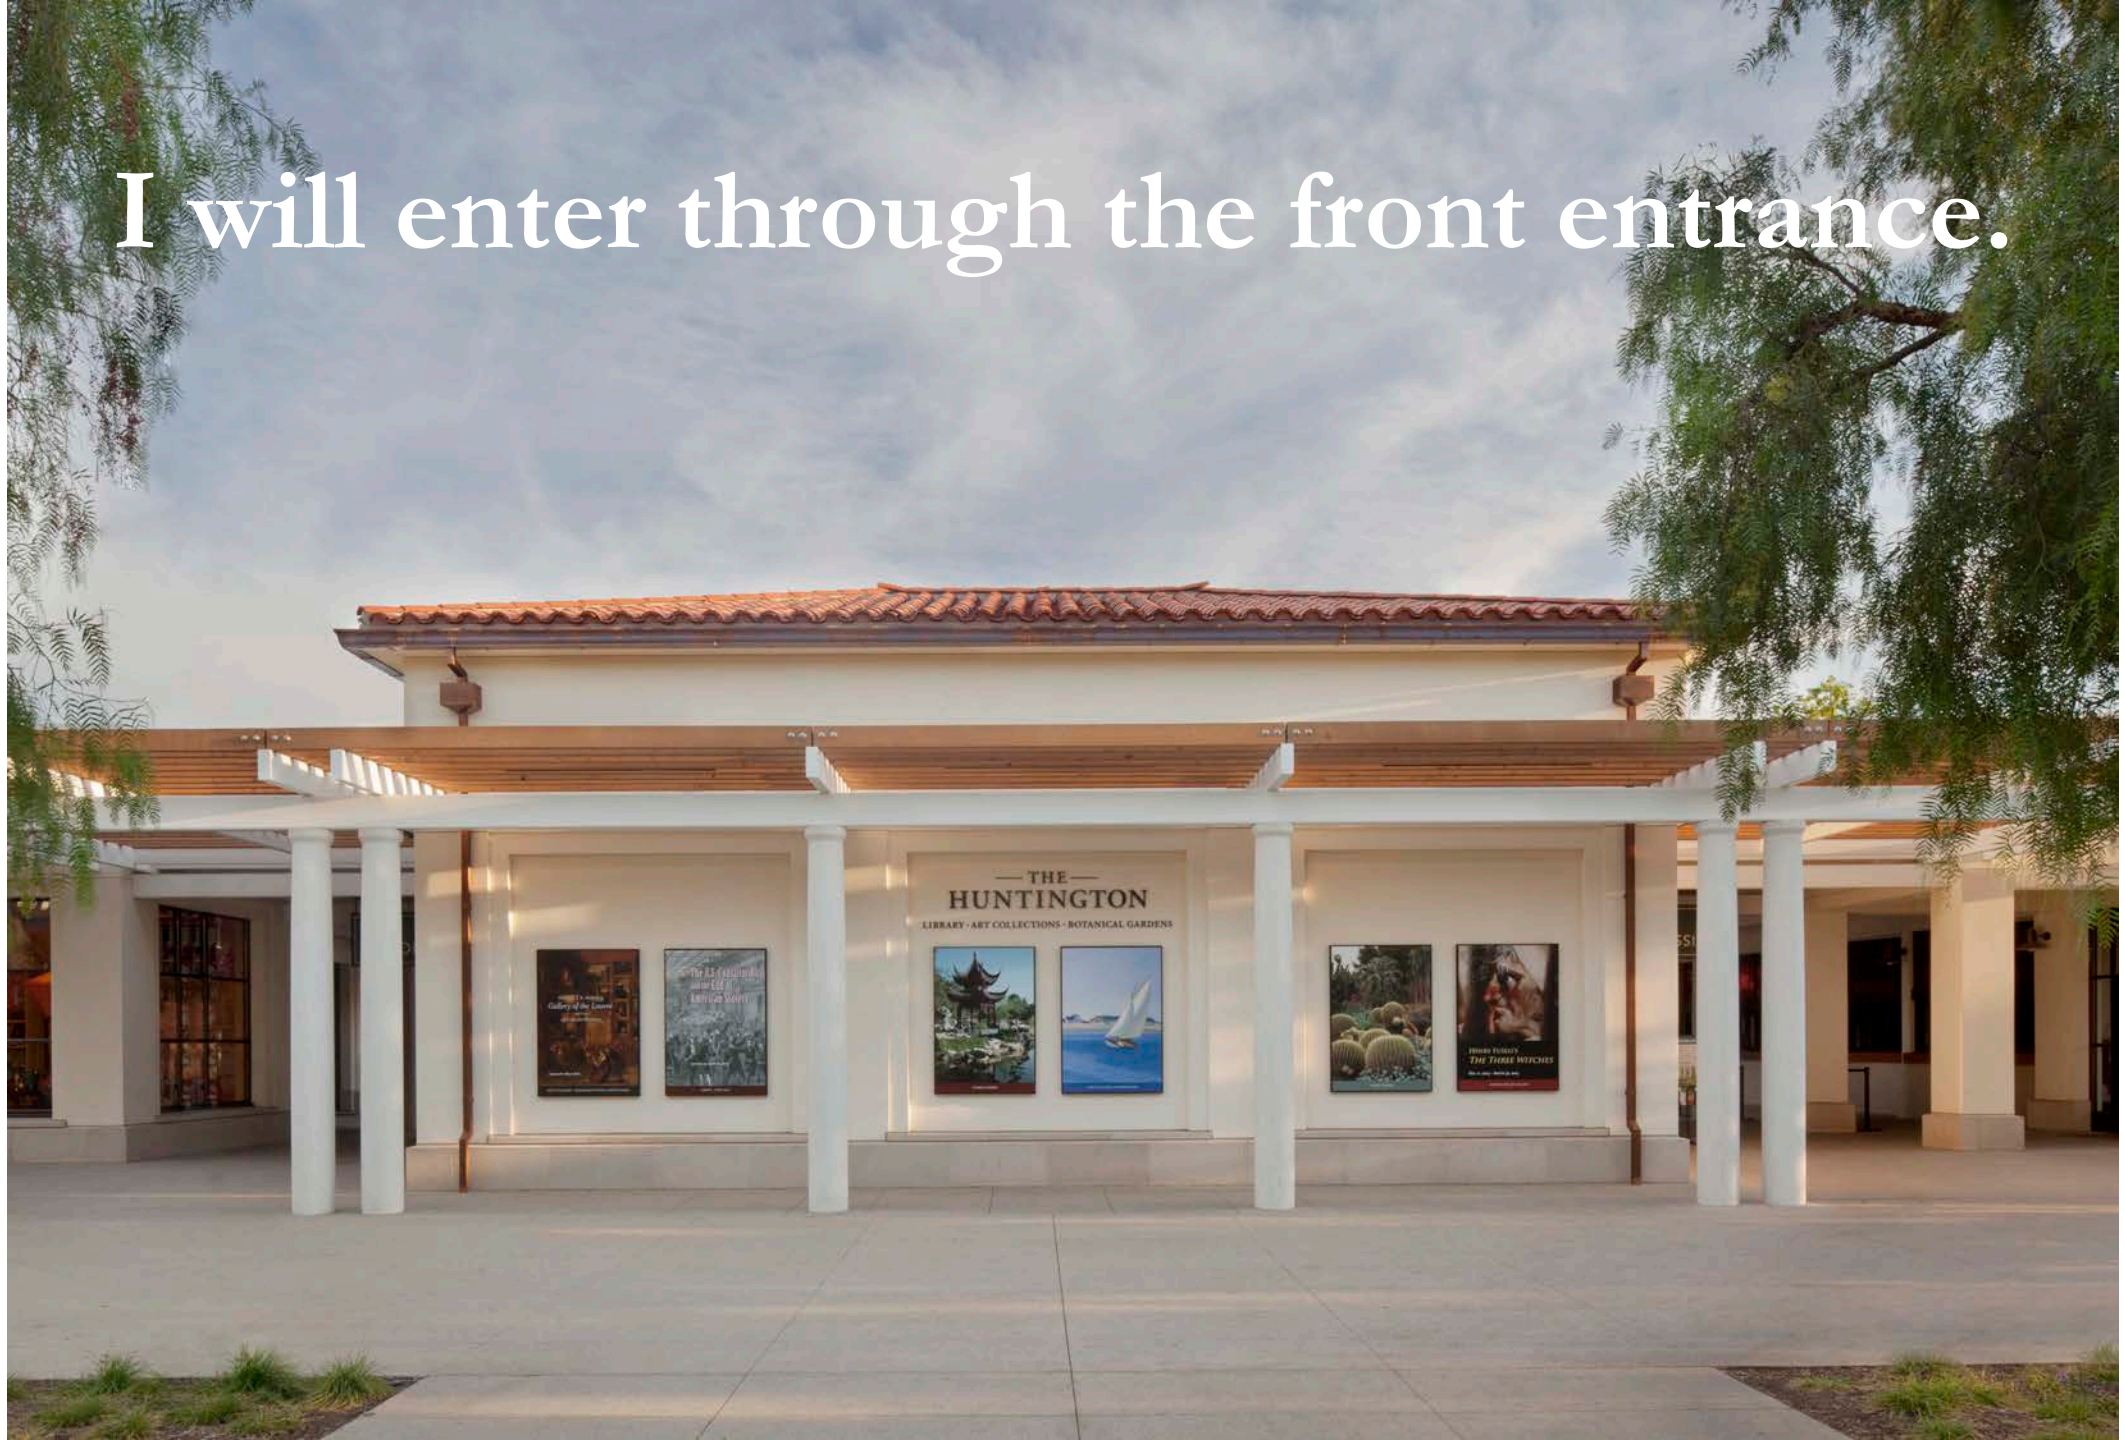

THE HUNTINGTON
Library, Art Collections, and Botanical Gardens

I am going to
The Huntington
Library, Art Collections, and Botanical Gardens.

I will enter through the front entrance.

I will wait in line
and get a sticker to enter The Huntington.

The Huntington
is a big place with lots to see and do.

Sometimes there are a lot of people. Sometimes there are very few people.
It is important to stay with the people I come with.

I will see security guards throughout The Huntington. The security guards keep me safe, keep others safe, and keep everything around me safe. They are happy to help me and answer questions.

There is a lot to do, see, hear, smell, touch, and feel at The Huntington.

I can go to the art galleries.

I can go to the gardens.

I can go to the library.

I will be safe at The Huntington. The security guards or people I am with will help keep me safe.

I will use a quiet voice inside.

I will walk slowly and quietly inside the galleries and library. I will give the art pieces space for safety.

I will use a soft touch and only on things that I am allowed to touch.

I will hear and smell a lot of different things while I am at The Huntington.

During my visit I can take a break. I can sit and rest in the big open spaces. I can go to the bathroom when I need to. I just need to tell the people I am with.

I can bring food from my home or buy food at the restaurants at The Huntington.

The Huntington
is a big place. I may not get to see everything.
That is okay.
